

NMGS Membership

The Society is a conglomerate of diverse disciplines and personalities. These include Mining Engineers, Petroleum Engineers, Metallurgists, Geologists, Hydrogeologists, Geochemists, Geophysicists etc. The following categories of membership are recognised:

- (a) Fellows: Corporate Members of the society, who have distinguished themselves in the profession, and have contributed significantly towards the development of NMGS for a minimum period of ten years.
- (b) Corporate members: Persons, who have successfully completed a period of approved training in the professions and must have practised for at least 3 years after such training.
- (c) Graduate members: Persons, who have successfully completed a period of training in the professions but have not practised for at least 3 years.
- (d) Affiliate members: Persons who have engaged for at least six years in the professions or in scientific or technical works, but do not qualify for admission into corporate membership.
- (e) Student members: Bonafide students or full time undergraduates or diploma students in mining, petroleum technology, metallurgy, geology or other disciplines related to earth sciences.
- (f) Institutional members: Institutions, Corporations, companies or organisations associated with the profession.
- (g) Honourary fellows/members: persons who in the opinion of the council, have distinguished themselves in the professions and or in their callings, and have contributed significantly to the progress of the society.

For Application forms Please click here